

Amy's Email Epistle – Thursday, February 07, 2019

Friends,

I want to thank you all for your prayers and concerns for me this week. On Tuesday I went in for a heart catheterization. My cardiologist was concerned that I might have another blockage. Unfortunately, he found that the bypass grafts I had 2 and a half years ago both had collapsed. The good news is that he was able to place two stents in my heart to reopen the pathways. Other than the discomfort and soreness around the site where they inserted the catheter I am feeling much better. Better than I have over the past year.

I will be resting at home - Dr.'s orders - the remainder of the week. I will be at church on Sunday - with renewed energy - and I hope to see you there as well!!

God is good...all the time.
